

Discrete data

---

Homework exercises are graded on a scale from 0 to 10. The distribution of scores show the 6 is the most common score. The data are discrete integer values. The number is a measure of the probability of getting a particular score.

